Introduction

In today's challenging markets, keeping abreast of the best practices in financial planning, learning new financial product features and the latest consumer trends are of paramount priorities to many professional financial planners.

As the leading institute in financial planning, the Institute of Financial Planners of Hong Kong (IFPHK) regularly invites experts across the industry to speak at our conference. The annual conference reviews and discusses key issues that are pertinent in the arena of financial planning. The conference provides an excellent platform for financial planners to benefit from the wisdom of the industry's leaders and visionaries, as well as enhance knowledge on the most important industry topics.
